This course is not intended to cover the content of law, but to critically evaluate the interaction between the law and the society in which it operates.

Assessments

Attendance & Participation

Regular attendance is required and part of your grade is participation in class. Attendance and participation are critical because the discussion and sharing of ideas and concepts is pivotal to engaging in critical thinking about the ideas in this course. Your participation will be determined by attendance taken throughout the semester in the form of in-class activities, short writing assignments, and discussions. Lack of attendance and participation in assignments and discussions cannot be made up at a later date unless you have a documentable reason for missing class. Vacations, work, and travel are not considered legitimate reasons for missing class or assignments. However, you get one “freebie” that will be dropped at the end of the semester.

Be prepared to come to class able to participate in discussions. Please read/listen/watch the materials noted for each topic before the class on that topic. As such, to earn full credit for class participation, you must read the cases and chapters that you are assigned and be prepared to answer questions pertaining to the materials.

Quizzes

There will be five cumulative, open note/book quizzes. All quizzes will be taken online. The quizzes consist of 30 multiple choice questions, true/false questions and 2 short answer questions. Your lowest quiz grade will be dropped. Further information on quiz structure will be discussed in class. Lockdown Browser is required for quizzes.

Thought Papers

There are five required thought/response papers due in this course. Thought papers will be expected to encourage you to engage with the material for that particular thought paper, discuss what you learned and what you still have questions about. Papers must be submitted on Canvas, or they will not be accepted. The rubric is available on Canvas.

Final Paper Outline

For the final assignment, you will write a critical analysis paper based on the Just Mercy novel and a major topic covered in class. We will have an in-class discussion about the novel (see schedule) be sure to have finished the book by then. An outline of your paper will also be required to be turned in the following class meeting. The rubric is available on Canvas.

Final Paper

For the final assignment, you will write a critical analysis paper based on the Just Mercy novel and a major topic covered in class. We will have an in-class discussion about the novel (see schedule) be sure to have finished the book by then. Your outline with feedback will be returned the week after it was due. Use this to write your final paper. The rubric is available on Canvas.

Note: I do not round up or add points at the end of the semester, so please do not ask. However, you will be given extra credit opportunities this semester. I encourage you to take advantage of these opportunities! They are provided so that if your grade is considered 'borderline' or within a few points of the next highest grade, you will have the opportunity to boost your grade. Extra credit opportunities are offered fairly to everyone, unlike arbitrarily asking the instructor to award extra points on an individual basis at the end of the semester. You can find more information on UF grading policies here.

Course Policies

Make-up Work

All make-up work is the student's responsibility. If you know you may miss a class, inform the instructor as soon as possible. I understand that sometimes one's personal life interferes with the ability to take a quiz, turn in a paper, attend class, etc. If you have a legitimate reason for missing a class or assignment (e.g., documented illness), and can provide documentation, you will be allowed to make up what you missed without a grade deduction IF you contact me immediately before/after the missed assignment. Religious holidays are excused without documentation but must be discussed with the instructor in advance. You are responsible for getting any notes and/or assignments from your fellow classmates should you need to miss class. As students, you must take responsibility for learning the material covered in class.

Late papers will be accepted within 48 hours of the due date and will have the grade lowered as a penalty. For each day the paper is late, your grade will be reduced by 10%. Any work submitted after 48 hours will not be accepted unless you have a documentable reason for the late submission.

Any requests for make-ups due to technical issues MUST be accompanied by the ticket number received from the Help Desk when the problem was reported to them. The ticket number will document the time and date of the problem. You MUST e-mail your instructor within 24 hours of the technical difficulty if you wish to request a make-up.

Disputing Grades

All grades are posted on Canvas throughout the semester. It is your responsibility to review your grades regularly. Should you have a grading question, please reach out to me. If you have questions about your grade on a quiz, paper, etc. you have one week after the grade is posted on Canvas in which to inquire about your grade (that is, to ask for point changes based on justifiable criteria – except for the last week, because grades are due within a few days). After that time period, the grade stands. However, you can ask questions about class material at any point to increase your understanding of what you did wrong. If you want to question your grades before the final grades are submitted, you need to do so no later than Saturday, August 7. Should you raise serious questions about how something was graded, I reserve the right to re-grade your entire assignment (meaning your grade may go up or down).

Learning Environment and Preferred Name

It is important to the learning environment that you feel welcome and safe in this class; and that you are comfortable participating in class discussions and communicating with me on any issues related to the class. If your preferred name is not the name listed on the official UF roll, please let me know as soon as possible by e-mail or otherwise. I would like to acknowledge your preferred name, and pronouns that reflect your identity. Please let me know how you would like to be addressed in class, if your name and pronouns are not reflected by your UF-rostered name.
